

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN ENGLISH

We offer several options for graduate studies and can help you choose the path that is right for your personal and professional goals.

M.A./M.Ed. in English and Education (55 credits, three years)

This dual degree offers certification and criteria fulfillment to teach grades 6-12, dual enrollment and college courses. It strengthens your credentials for teaching AP or IB English courses. It also prepares you for Ph.D. or MFA programs through scholarly research or creative work. You will hold two degrees: one in English and one in education.

M.A. in English (30 credits, two years)

This degree helps you develop publishable research and writing in literary scholarship, creative writing, professional writing or the applied humanities. It provides preparation for humanities-related professional fields, college-level teaching or for further graduate work through Ph.D. or MFA programs. Your degree will be in English. This degree does not certify you to teach grades 6-12.

M.Ed. with Criteria Fulfillment for College Teaching (46 credits, two years)

This program offers certification and criteria fulfillment to teach grades 6-12, dual enrollment and college courses. It strengthens your credentials for teaching AP or IB English courses. You will take graduate level English coursework, but your degree will be in Education.

CONTACT US:

Dr. Tammy Cook
Secondary Program Coordinator
Department of Education
tcookl@montevallo.edu

Dr. Emma Atwood
Graduate Coordinator
Department of English and World Languages
eatwood@montevallo.edu

GRADUATE PROGRAMS IN ENGLISH

We offer several options for graduate studies and can help you choose the path that is right for your personal and professional goals.

M.A./M.Ed. in English and Education (55 credits, three years)

This dual degree offers certification and criteria fulfillment to teach grades 6-12, dual enrollment and college courses. It strengthens your credentials for teaching AP or IB English courses. It also prepares you for Ph.D. or MFA programs through scholarly research or creative work. You will hold two degrees: one in English and one in education.

M.A. in English (30 credits, two years)

This degree helps you develop publishable research and writing in literary scholarship, creative writing, professional writing or the applied humanities. It provides preparation for humanities-related professional fields, college-level teaching or for further graduate work through Ph.D. or MFA programs. Your degree will be in English. This degree does not certify you to teach grades 6-12.

M.Ed. with Criteria Fulfillment for College Teaching (46 credits, two years)

This program offers certification and criteria fulfillment to teach grades 6-12, dual enrollment and college courses. It strengthens your credentials for teaching AP or IB English courses. You will take graduate level English coursework, but your degree will be in Education.

CONTACT US:

Dr. Tammy Cook

Secondary Program Coordinator
Department of Education
tcookl@montevallo.edu

Dr. Emma Atwood

Graduate Coordinator
Department of English and World Languages
eatwood@montevallo.edu

UNIVERSITY of MONTEVALLO